“He who believes and is baptized
Will be saved; but he who does not Believe will be condemned.”
Mark 16:16

Matthew 28:18-20

- Referred to as The Great Commission
- But why?
- The name is not a God given name.

The Great Commission

- The term "Great Commission" for Matthew 28:18–20 was not coined in the Bible, but likely originated in the 17th century with Dutch missionary Justinian von Welz, later popularized by 19th-century missionary Hudson Taylor. It serves as a title for Jesus' final command to make disciples of all nations. (Google AI)

The Great Command

- A more fitting name might be
- Do we give serious consideration to this great command? Mark 16:15-16
- All need to hear the Gospel - Luke 24:46-47, John 6:54, Acts 1:8

The Great Command

- We must remember that mankind is lost without the Gospel - 2 Corinthians 4:3-4
- All are all in need of the TRUTH - Romans 3:9, 23; Acts 3:19, 26; 17:30
- ONLY the Gospel is the power unto salvation – Rom. 1:16, 1 Corinthians 1:21, Rom. 10:13-17

The Great Command

- Sharing the Gospel light is our responsibility - 2 Corinthians 4:3-6
- The saving message of the Gospel was shared - Acts 8:26-39; 11:13-14; 22:16
- If the early church could do it, then so can we - Colossians 1:19-23
